

Tutorial 8 Discussion:

This tutorial was good as a follow up to the assignment 4 in terms of relevance. It provided more practice with querying databases from the client side and also introduced more ways to handle query parameters. The relevance of the tutorial is very similar to that of assignment 4 in that you are doing a lot of the same things just on a smaller scale. Another difference is that in a4 I used mongoose while this tutorial uses regular mongodb. This doesn't change the functionality of the server however I was able to see and implement a little bit of what mongoose does behind the scenes with its queries. This was good for getting better understanding, however I still prefer the ease and power of use of mongoose over mongodb.
